

ISO 14001

This is one of the finest certificates we have: The Environmental Management System Certificate. Our environmental management system certificate is something we are very proud of. This certification implies that we are right on track. We perform your assignment with least possible effects on the environment. Once a year we follow up our suppliers efforts concerning quality, environment and safety on the roads. One of our priorities is the loading factor of our european removals. All our waste products are sorted out and left for recycling. Once a year, De Norske Veritas performs audits in order to insure that we meet the environmental objectives.
